Press review on "Henning Sieverts: Hidden C":

"Hidden CD – this CD is a mild sensation, captivating and highly addictive"
(Jazzthing)

"Hidden C is a commitment to beautiful melodies with impressionist power."
(Rondo)

"Interwoven and held together by the thread of six miniatures on the "Hidden C", the CD bridges a wide variety of biographical and geographical musical impressions which gradually display their beauty" (Jazzzeitung)

"A soft, beautiful and at the same time cryptic concert. Two and a half hours pass by like a uniform flow. Figures, pictures, miniatures, moods. The senses wander through a gallery of impressionist paintings. But instead of photographically capturing each image separately, a comprehensive basic feeling is produced. "Hidden C" works in the classical sense like a suite: rigour and gentleness complement each other. The music obeys the secret that it actually changes nothing and yet it converts everything miraculously." (Donaukurier)
